

10-8-1947

The Ledger and Times, October 8, 1947

The Ledger and Times

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.murraystate.edu/tlt>

Recommended Citation

The Ledger and Times, "The Ledger and Times, October 8, 1947" (1947). The Ledger & Times. 1609.
<https://digitalcommons.murraystate.edu/tlt/1609>

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the Newspapers at Murray State's Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Ledger & Times by an authorized administrator of Murray State's Digital Commons. For more information, please contact msu.digitalcommons@murraystate.edu.

WEATHER FORECAST

Kentucky: Mostly cloudy and continued mild with occasional brief rains today, tonight and possibly Thursday.

United Press

YOUR PROGRESSIVE HOME NEWS-
PAPER FOR OVER HALF A CENTURY

Murray, Kentucky, Wednesday Afternoon, Oct. 8, 1947

MURRAY POPULATION — 5187

Vol. XIX; No. 98

BROADCASTING RETURNS TO BIRTH PLACE

Girl Scouts Leaders Announce Year's Plans

The first organizational meeting for the Girl Scouts was held Saturday at the home of Mrs. James Moore. Various plans and activities for the coming year were discussed.

Mrs. A. B. Austin, program chairman, presided at the meeting. The leaders present were: Mrs. L. M. Overbey, Mrs. R. K. Kelley, Mrs. A. J. Tracey, Mrs. Herbert Holpert, Miss Violet Combs, Miss Ford and Mrs. James Moore.

The leader's house schedule for the use of the group cabin was announced as follows:

Monday, 2:50-3:50—Mrs. Treon's Brownies.

Tuesday 3:30-4:30—Mrs. Converse's Intermediates. Mrs. Tracy assistant.

Wednesday 2:50-3:50—Mrs. Overbey's Brownies. Also on Wednesday, if present plans are successful, 3:15-4:30—Judy Albritten's Intermediates.

Thursday 3:15-4:30—Mrs. Drake's Intermediates.

Mrs. Kelley's troop to be announced.

Details were also arranged for the Girl Scouts' Forget-Me-Not sale to be held Saturday, October 18. This will be the first community service the Girl Scouts have scheduled for this year. The sale of Forget-Me-Not was started last year, and now is an annual event. The proceeds go to disabled veterans.

On the day of the sale every Girl Scout will wear their uniform while on duty at her table. Table locations for the sale will be:

Mrs. Groceries: 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Mrs. Moore's Brownies: selling assisted by fifth grade Intermediates from Training School.

In front of Post Office and in front of Collegiate Inn. The two places will be in charge of Dot Kelley's girls from the Training School who are ninth graders.

Down town: 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.—Peoples Savings Bank, Mrs. Converse's High School girls; Bank of Murray—Mrs. Lewis Drake's upper Intermediates; Wallis Drug—Mrs. Kelley's ninth grade girls of the City School; Post Office—Miss Judy Albritten's young Intermediates.

"Hidden Headlines" will be the subject of the principal address to be delivered before the 63rd annual meeting of the First District Educational Association by Cecil Brown, distinguished news analyst, here Friday.

Brown will address the educators at a general session scheduled for 10:50 Friday morning. The West Kentucky group will also hear speeches by Dr. Leland B. Jacobs, Ohio State University; Dr. Ralph H. Woods and Dr. E. J. Carter, both of Murray State College, and N. O. Kimbler, secretary of the Kentucky Teacher Retirement System.

Cecil Brown began his career as a reporter for the Youngstown (O.) "Vindicator," covering police and court beats in 1929. Since that time he has received some half dozen awards for outstanding reporting of the news, including the coveted Peabody Award, the Pulitzer prize of radio.

He held a succession of newspaper jobs in Los Angeles, Pittsburgh, Newark, and New York before going to Europe, and Africa in 1937 as a free lance magazine writer.

Among his most notable stories was a world beat on the death of Pope Pius XI.

Brown covered the collapse of Yugoslavia and later made numerous broadcasts from Cairo. In July of 1941, he went to the Far East and made several broadcasts from that theatre of war which won him the Overseas Press Club's prize for radio reporting; also the award of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalistic fraternity for the best news reporting of 1941.

The correspondent was aboard the Repulse when that ship was torpedoed and also witnessed the sinking of the Prince of Wales in

Southeast Doctors Study Problems at Atlanta Meeting

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 7 (UP).—

Doctors of the southeast met here today in their first regional conference to study means of extending public health service and thus ward off the possibility of socialized medicine.

Dr. Steve Paschal Kenyon, president of the medical association of Georgia, opened the meeting and set the keynote.

"Today there are just a few diseases which have not been conquered by the medical profession," he said. "Yet organized medicine has more social and economic problems than at any time in history."

"The shortage of nurses, the dirge of general practitioners, the unbalanced distribution of doctors and the problems of medical care in the rural areas adds up to the threat of governmental medicine."

Kenyon said it was the purpose of this session to study the overall problem.

Gov. M. E. Thompson told the doctors that Georgia is ready to do its part in extending public health services. He urged the medical profession to train thousands of new doctors, dentists and technicians for work in this state and elsewhere.

Thompson gave no dollar estimate of what the state was willing to put into medical services for its people but he indicated that it would be extensive.

Thompson said Georgia spent $2,150,000 more last year to "protect the health of its citizens" than ever before. This year, he said, the state will "spend three times as much as in 1945."

But the governor emphasized that a severe shortage of doctors and dentists exists and urged the medical profession to assume the responsibility of providing an adequate number of physicians to replace those who retire each year.

"The cooperation of all must be had to protect the health of all," Thompson said. "The state must stand ready to finance an adequate program of public health and in Georgia the state is ready."

"The communities must assist in promoting erection of new facilities in rural areas by assuring physicians of a decent living. The colleges must cooperate in providing the state and nation with enough practitioners to carry the burden of attending the needs of our people."

Dr. Harrison H. Shoulders, of Nashville, Tenn., past president of the American Medical Association, told doctors that the "courage, industry and perseverance" of the medical profession made possible the application of insurance principles to the financing of medical attention.

Dr. F. S. Crockett, of Lafayette, Ind., chairman of the committee on rural medical service of the AMA, said it is possible for any community in the country to have good medical service as long as there is popular demand for it and appreciation of its benefits.

Crockett said that communities with good medical service usually appear prosperous with productive farms and thrifty people.

Dr. Edgar Greene, president-elect of the Medical Association of Georgia, said that a major task in furtherance of public health is education.

Dr. Walter B. Martin, of Norfolk, Va., a member of the Council on Medical Service of the AMA, said in another speech that "Plans for improving medical care should be on a community-wide basis and should receive their primary impetus and sustaining force from the community."

Thomas A. Hendricks, executive secretary of the council on medical service, said that over 1,000,000 persons in the eight southern states now enjoy the benefits of prepaid medical and surgical care.

This includes enrollment programs sponsored by the medical profession, private industry, group practice clinics, cooperatives and the federal government, he said.

Lawrence said 132 bills and resolutions pertaining to health and medical practice were introduced during the last session of congress.

Members of the Murray Chamber of Commerce will meet the train in private cars and take them on a tour of the city. The visitors will then be taken to Court Square where an exchange of greetings will take place over a public address system. Arrangements have been made for a band to give the visitors a noisy welcome.

Mayor George Hart is expected to greet the Memphians after one of the Good Neighbor Tours has explained the purpose of the trip to the crowd assembled there.

Members of the Murray Chamber of Commerce will meet the train in private cars and take them on a tour of the city. The visitors will then be taken to Court Square where an exchange of greetings will take place over a public address system. Arrangements have been made for a band to give the visitors a noisy welcome.

Mayor George Hart is expected to greet the Memphians after one of the Good Neighbor Tours has explained the purpose of the trip to the crowd assembled there.

Members of the Murray Chamber of Commerce will meet the train in private cars and take them on a tour of the city. The visitors will then be taken to Court Square where an exchange of greetings will take place over a public address system. Arrangements have been made for a band to give the visitors a noisy welcome.

Mayor George Hart is expected to greet the Memphians after one of the Good Neighbor Tours has explained the purpose of the trip to the crowd assembled there.

Members of the Murray Chamber of Commerce will meet the train in private cars and take them on a tour of the city. The visitors will then be taken to Court Square where an exchange of greetings will take place over a public address system. Arrangements have been made for a band to give the visitors a noisy welcome.

Mayor George Hart is expected to greet the Memphians after one of the Good Neighbor Tours has explained the purpose of the trip to the crowd assembled there.

Members of the Murray Chamber of Commerce will meet the train in private cars and take them on a tour of the city. The visitors will then be taken to Court Square where an exchange of greetings will take place over a public address system. Arrangements have been made for a band to give the visitors a noisy welcome.

Mayor George Hart is expected to greet the Memphians after one of the Good Neighbor Tours has explained the purpose of the trip to the crowd assembled there.

Members of the Murray Chamber of Commerce will meet the train in private cars and take them on a tour of the city. The visitors will then be taken to Court Square where an exchange of greetings will take place over a public address system. Arrangements have been made for a band to give the visitors a noisy welcome.

Mayor George Hart is expected to greet the Memphians after one of the Good Neighbor Tours has explained the purpose of the trip to the crowd assembled there.

Members of the Murray Chamber of Commerce will meet the train in private cars and take them on a tour of the city. The visitors will then be taken to Court Square where an exchange of greetings will take place over a public address system. Arrangements have been made for a band to give the visitors a noisy welcome.

Mayor George Hart is expected to greet the Memphians after one of the Good Neighbor Tours has explained the purpose of the trip to the crowd assembled there.

Members of the Murray Chamber of Commerce will meet the train in private cars and take them on a tour of the city. The visitors will then be taken to Court Square where an exchange of greetings will take place over a public address system. Arrangements have been made for a band to give the visitors a noisy welcome.

Mayor George Hart is expected to greet the Memphians after one of the Good Neighbor Tours has explained the purpose of the trip to the crowd assembled there.

Members of the Murray Chamber of Commerce will meet the train in private cars and take them on a tour of the city. The visitors will then be taken to Court Square where an exchange of greetings will take place over a public address system. Arrangements have been made for a band to give the visitors a noisy welcome.

Mayor George Hart is expected to greet the Memphians after one of the Good Neighbor Tours has explained the purpose of the trip to the crowd assembled there.

Members of the Murray Chamber of Commerce will meet the train in private cars and take them on a tour of the city. The visitors will then be taken to Court Square where an exchange of greetings will take place over a public address system. Arrangements have been made for a band to give the visitors a noisy welcome.

Mayor George Hart is expected to greet the Memphians after one of the Good Neighbor Tours has explained the purpose of the trip to the crowd assembled there.

Members of the Murray Chamber of Commerce will meet the train in private cars and take them on a tour of the city. The visitors will then be taken to Court Square where an exchange of greetings will take place over a public address system. Arrangements have been made for a band to give the visitors a noisy welcome.

Mayor George Hart is expected to greet the Memphians after one of the Good Neighbor Tours has explained the purpose of the trip to the crowd assembled there.

Members of the Murray Chamber of Commerce will meet the train in private cars and take them on a tour of the city. The visitors will then be taken to Court Square where an exchange of greetings will take place over a public address system. Arrangements have been made for a band to give the visitors a noisy welcome.

Mayor George Hart is expected to greet the Memphians after one of the Good Neighbor Tours has explained the purpose of the trip to the crowd assembled there.

Members of the Murray Chamber of Commerce will meet the train in private cars and take them on a tour of the city. The visitors will then be taken to Court Square where an exchange of greetings will take place over a public address system. Arrangements have been made for a band to give the visitors a noisy welcome.

Mayor George Hart is expected to greet the Memphians after one of the Good Neighbor Tours has explained the purpose of the trip to the crowd assembled there.

Members of the Murray Chamber of Commerce will meet the train in private cars and take them on a tour of the city. The visitors will then be taken to Court Square where an exchange of greetings will take place over a public address system. Arrangements have been made for a band to give the visitors a noisy welcome.

Mayor George Hart is expected to greet the Memphians after one of the Good Neighbor Tours has explained the purpose of the trip to the crowd assembled there.

Members of the Murray Chamber of Commerce will meet the train in private cars and take them on a tour of the city. The visitors will then be taken to Court Square where an exchange of greetings will take place over a public address system. Arrangements have been made for a band to give the visitors a noisy welcome.

Mayor George Hart is expected to greet the Memphians after one of the Good Neighbor Tours has explained the purpose of the trip to the crowd assembled there.

Officials Expect 24-Hour Station To Be In Operation Within 45 Days

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 7 (UP).—

Doctors of the southeast met here today in their first regional conference to study means of extending public health service and thus ward off the possibility of socialized medicine.

Dr. Steve Paschal Kenyon, president of the medical association of Georgia, opened the meeting and set the keynote.

"Today there are just a few diseases which have not been conquered by the medical profession," he said. "Yet organized medicine has more social and economic problems than at any time in history."

"The shortage of nurses, the dirge of general practitioners, the unbalanced distribution of doctors and the problems of medical care in the rural areas adds up to the threat of governmental medicine."

Kenyon said it was the purpose of this session to study the overall problem.

Gov. M. E. Thompson told the doctors that Georgia is ready to do its part in extending public health services. He urged the medical profession to train thousands of new doctors, dentists and technicians for work in this state and elsewhere.

Thompson gave no dollar estimate of what the state was willing to put into medical services for its people but he indicated that it would be extensive.

Thompson said Georgia spent $2,150,000 more last year to "protect the health of its citizens" than ever before. This year, he said, the state will "spend three times as much as in 1945."

But the governor emphasized that a severe shortage of doctors and dentists exists and urged the medical profession to assume the responsibility of providing an adequate number of physicians to replace those who retire each year.

"The cooperation of all must be had to protect the health of all," Thompson said. "The state must stand ready to finance an adequate program of public health and in Georgia the state is ready."

"The communities must assist in promoting erection of new facilities in rural areas by assuring physicians of a decent living. The colleges must cooperate in providing the state and nation with enough practitioners to carry the burden of attending the needs of our people."

Dr. Harrison H. Shoulders, of Nashville, Tenn., past president of the American Medical Association, told doctors that the "courage, industry and perseverance" of the medical profession made possible the application of insurance principles to the financing of medical attention.

Dr. F. S. Crockett, of Lafayette, Ind., chairman of the committee on rural medical service of the AMA, said it is possible for any community in the country to have good medical service as long as there is popular demand for it and appreciation of its benefits.

Crockett said that communities with good medical service usually appear prosperous with productive farms and thrifty people.

Dr. Edgar Greene, president-elect of the Medical Association of Georgia, said that a major task in furtherance of public health is education.

Dr. Walter B. Martin, of Norfolk, Va., a member of the Council on Medical Service of the AMA, said in another speech that "Plans for improving medical care should be on a community-wide basis and should receive their primary impetus and sustaining force from the community."

Thomas A. Hendricks, executive secretary of the council on medical service, said that over 1,000,000 persons in the eight southern states now enjoy the benefits of prepaid medical and surgical care.

This includes enrollment programs sponsored by the medical profession, private industry, group practice clinics, cooperatives and the federal government, he said.

Lawrence said 132 bills and resolutions pertaining to health and medical practice were introduced during the last session of congress.

Members of the Murray Chamber of Commerce will meet the train in private cars and take them on a tour of the city. The visitors will then be taken to Court Square where an exchange of greetings will take place over a public address system. Arrangements have been made for a band to give the visitors a noisy welcome.

Mayor George Hart is expected to greet the Memphians after one of the Good Neighbor Tours has explained the purpose of the trip to the crowd assembled there.

Members of the Murray Chamber of Commerce will meet the train in private cars and take them on a tour of the city. The visitors will then be taken to Court Square where an exchange of greetings will take place over a public address system. Arrangements have been made for a band to give the visitors a noisy welcome.

Mayor George Hart is expected to greet the Memphians after one of the Good Neighbor Tours has explained the purpose of the trip to the crowd assembled there.

Members of the Murray Chamber of Commerce will meet the train in private cars and take them on a tour of the city. The visitors will then be taken to Court Square where an exchange of greetings will take place over a public address system. Arrangements have been made for a band to give the visitors a noisy welcome.

Mayor George Hart is expected to greet the Memphians after one of the Good Neighbor Tours has explained the purpose of the trip to the crowd assembled there.

Members of the Murray Chamber of Commerce will meet the train in private cars and take them on a tour of the city. The visitors will then be taken to Court Square where an exchange of greetings will take place over a public address system. Arrangements have been made for a band to give the visitors a noisy welcome.

Mayor George Hart is expected to greet the Memphians after one of the Good Neighbor Tours has explained the purpose of the trip to the crowd assembled there.

Members of the Murray Chamber of Commerce will meet the train in private cars and take them on a tour of the city. The visitors will then be taken to Court Square where an exchange of greetings will take place over a public address system. Arrangements have been made for a band to give the visitors a noisy welcome.

Mayor George Hart is expected to greet the Memphians after one of the Good Neighbor Tours has explained the purpose of the trip to the crowd assembled there.

Members of the Murray Chamber of Commerce will meet the train in private cars and take them on a tour of the city. The visitors will then be taken to Court Square where an exchange of greetings will take place over a public address system. Arrangements have been made for a band to give the visitors a noisy welcome.

Mayor George Hart is expected to greet the Memphians after one of the Good Neighbor Tours has explained the purpose of the trip to the crowd assembled there.

Members of the Murray Chamber of Commerce will meet the train in private cars and take them on a tour of the city. The visitors will then be taken to Court Square where an exchange of greetings will take place over a public address system. Arrangements have been made for a band to give the visitors a noisy welcome.

Mayor George Hart is expected to greet the Memphians after one of the Good Neighbor Tours has explained the purpose of the trip to the crowd assembled there.

Members of the Murray Chamber of Commerce will meet the train in private cars and take them on a tour of the city. The visitors will then be taken to Court Square where an exchange of greetings will take place over a public address system. Arrangements have been made for a band to give the visitors a noisy welcome.

Mayor George Hart is expected to greet the Memphians after one of the Good Neighbor Tours has explained the purpose of the trip to the crowd assembled there.

Members of the Murray Chamber of Commerce will meet the train in private cars and take them on a tour of the city. The visitors will then be taken to Court Square where an exchange of greetings will take place over a public address system. Arrangements have been made for a band to give the visitors a noisy welcome.

Mayor George Hart is expected to greet the Memphians after one of the Good Neighbor Tours has explained the purpose of the trip to the crowd assembled there.

Members of the Murray Chamber of Commerce will meet the train in private cars and take them on a tour of the city. The visitors will then be taken to Court Square where an exchange of greetings will take place over a public address system. Arrangements have been made for a band to give the visitors a noisy welcome.

Mayor George Hart is expected to greet the Memphians after one of the Good Neighbor Tours has explained the purpose of the trip to the crowd assembled there.

Members of the Murray Chamber of Commerce will meet the train in private cars and take them on a tour of the city. The visitors will then be taken to Court Square where an exchange of greetings will take place over a public address system. Arrangements have been made for a band to give the visitors a noisy welcome.

Mayor George Hart is expected to greet the Memphians after one of the Good Neighbor Tours has explained the purpose of the trip to the crowd assembled there.

Members of the Murray Chamber of Commerce will meet the train in private cars and take them on a tour of the city. The visitors will then be taken to Court Square where an exchange of greetings will take place over a public address system. Arrangements have been made for a band to give the visitors a noisy welcome.

Mayor George Hart is expected to greet the Memphians after one of the Good Neighbor Tours has explained the purpose of the trip to the crowd assembled there.

Members of the Murray Chamber of Commerce will meet the train in private cars and take them on a tour of the city. The visitors will then be taken to Court Square where an exchange of greetings will take place over a public address system. Arrangements have been made for a band to give the visitors a noisy welcome.

Mayor George Hart is expected to greet the Memphians after one of the Good Neighbor Tours has explained the purpose of the trip to the crowd assembled there.

Members of the Murray Chamber of Commerce will meet the train in private cars and take them on a tour of the city. The visitors will then be taken to Court Square where an exchange of greetings will take place over a public address system. Arrangements have been made for a band to give the visitors a noisy welcome.

Mayor George Hart is expected to greet the Memphians after one of the Good Neighbor Tours has explained the purpose of the trip to the crowd assembled there.

Members of the Murray Chamber of Commerce will meet the train in private cars and take them on a tour of the city. The visitors will then be taken to Court Square where an exchange of greetings will take place over a public address system. Arrangements have been made for a band to give the visitors a noisy welcome.

Mayor George Hart is expected to greet the Memphians after one of the Good Neighbor Tours has explained the purpose of the trip to the crowd assembled there.

Nathan B. Stubblefield, Inventor of Radio

First Radio Broadcast Is Described By Dr. Rainey T. Wells, Participant

Dr. Rainey T. Wells, former Calloway (County attorney and president of Murray State College, told the FCC representative in January how Nathan Stubblefield gave a demonstration of his broadcasting device in 1902 and added, "As far as I know, that was the first conversation ever carried by what we now call radio."

Dr. Wells, in testifying before the commission, stated that he had known Nathan B. Stubblefield since boyhood. "I was Stubblefield's attorney in 1901 for the purpose of securing patents for his apparatus," he said. Dr. Wells recalled that Stubblefield lived approximately 100 feet west of the present site of Wells Hall on the college campus.

The onetime general attorney for the Woodmen of the World insurance society said that he was called to Stubblefield's home in the summer of 1902 to participate in the demonstration. Stubblefield entered what "we would call a broadcasting booth today" and spoke to Dr. Wells from a distance of 2,000 to 3,000 feet.

Dr. Wells said that he was highly skeptical of the invention at that time and moved about with the receiver during the experiment to eliminate the possibility of concealed wires or other "trickery."

"The apparatus worked to perfection," Dr. Wells declared. "Stubblefield died in Calloway County in 1928 and a monument to his memory now stands on the Murray State campus, near the scene of his early experiments. He is recognized by many as the real inventor of radio."

Dr. Wells said that he was highly skeptical of the invention at that time and moved about with the receiver during the experiment to eliminate the possibility of concealed wires or other "trickery."

"The apparatus worked to perfection," Dr. Wells declared. "Stubblefield died in Calloway County in 1928 and a monument to his memory now stands on the Murray State campus, near the scene of his early experiments. He is recognized by many as the real inventor of radio."

Dr. Wells said that he was highly skeptical of the invention at that time and moved about with the receiver during the experiment to eliminate the possibility of concealed wires or other "trickery."

"The apparatus worked to perfection," Dr. Wells declared. "Stubblefield died in Calloway County in 1928 and a monument to his memory now stands on the Murray State campus, near the scene of his early experiments. He is recognized by many as the real inventor of radio."

Dr. Wells said that he was highly skeptical of the invention at that time and moved about with the receiver during the experiment to eliminate the possibility of concealed wires or other "trickery."

"The apparatus worked to perfection," Dr. Wells declared. "Stubblefield died in Calloway County in 1928 and a monument to his memory now stands on the Murray State campus, near the scene of his early experiments. He is recognized by many as the real inventor of radio."

Dr. Wells said that he was highly skeptical of the invention at that time and moved about with the receiver during the experiment to eliminate the possibility of concealed wires or other "trickery."

"The apparatus worked to perfection," Dr. Wells declared. "Stubblefield died in Calloway County in 1928 and a monument to his memory now stands on the Murray State campus, near the scene of his early experiments. He is recognized by many as the real inventor of radio."

Dr. Wells said that he was highly skeptical of the invention at that time and moved about with the receiver during the experiment to eliminate the possibility of concealed wires or other "trickery."

"The apparatus worked to perfection," Dr. Wells declared. "Stubblefield died in Calloway County in 1928 and a monument to his memory now stands on the Murray State campus, near the scene of his early experiments. He is recognized by many as the real inventor of radio."

Dr. Wells said that he was highly skeptical of the invention at that time and moved about with the receiver during the experiment to eliminate the possibility of concealed wires or other "trickery."

"The apparatus worked to perfection," Dr. Wells declared. "Stubblefield died in Calloway County in 1928 and a monument to his memory now stands on the Murray State campus, near the scene of his early experiments. He is recognized by many as the real inventor of radio."

Dr. Wells said that he was highly skeptical of the invention at that time and moved about with the receiver during the experiment to eliminate the possibility of concealed wires or other "trickery."

"The apparatus worked to perfection," Dr. Wells declared. "Stubblefield died in Calloway County in 1928 and a monument to his memory now stands on the Murray State campus, near the scene of his early experiments. He is recognized by many as the real inventor of radio."

Dr. Wells said that he was highly skeptical of the invention at that time and moved about with the receiver during the experiment to eliminate the possibility of concealed wires or other "trickery."

"The apparatus worked to perfection," Dr. Wells declared. "Stubblefield died in Calloway County in 1928 and a monument to his memory now stands on the Murray State campus, near the scene of his early experiments. He is recognized by many as the real inventor of radio."

Dr. Wells said that he was highly skeptical of the invention at that time and moved about with the receiver during the experiment to eliminate the possibility of concealed wires or other "trickery."

"The apparatus worked to perfection," Dr. Wells declared. "Stubblefield died in Calloway County in 1928 and a monument to his memory now stands on the Murray State campus, near the scene of his early experiments. He is recognized by many as the real inventor of radio."

Dr. Wells said that he was highly skeptical of the invention at that time and moved about with the receiver during the experiment to eliminate the possibility of concealed wires or other "trickery."

RONALD W. CHURCHILL, Owner
301 MAPLE STREET Murray, Kentucky TELEPHONE 7

Imm

IF YOU WANT TO

USE THE CLASSIFIED
and Save Money

For Sale

AUCTION SALE at Gat Phillip's farm one mile south of Harris Grove on Thursday, October 9, at 10 o'clock. Household and kitchen furniture, antiques. If raining, sale will be held following day. O8p

FOR SALE: 1940 Oldsmobile 6 sedan; clean and in good condition. See C. G. Johnston, Hazel, Ky. O8p

FOR SALE: Underwood typewriter, Burroughs Adding machine on stand (electric). Call 456 or Western Ky. Stages. O8c

FOR SALE: Warm Morning stove with jacket. One without jacket. Phone 495-W. O8c

FOR SALE: Disc harrow. Good condition—8-disc, team drawn—J. W. Story, Rt. 2. Phone 3112. 1p

Interstate LOAN CORPORATION
506 Main St. Murray
Phone 1180

COMPLETE CONCRETE SERVICE

GEURIN CONCRETE PRODUCTS

East Highway Murray, Ky. Phone 324

Announcing
OUR APPOINTMENT AS DEALER FOR
Genuine FERGUSON SYSTEM IMPLEMENTS AND PARTS

Stokes Tractor & Implement Co.
East Main St., Murray, Ky.
Telephone 1156

Immediate delivery on Woods Cornpickers for all make tractors

Notices

FULLER BRUSHES—Call 419-R. Ask for John P. Cashona, disabled veteran student, or write care Mrs. McDaniel, 405 N. 16 St. O8p

KINDERGARTEN—For ages 4 and 5 will begin at Presbyterian Chapel Tuesday, October 7. For further information, Telephone 778-M. O8p

Wanted

WANTED: Experienced waitress, short hours, good wages. Apply at Collegiate Inn. O8c

WANTED—Man with tractor or team to make a crop. Good house on highway. Good stock barn and tobacco barn. Fertile land—Albert Ford, Sedalia. O14p

SPORTS PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 8 (UP)—For two men who had just spent an estimated $2,000,000 Dan Topping and Del Webb were very happy.

They stood side by side in Webb's spunky suite at the Waldorf-Astoria and the dark-haired Topping announced, with the Arizona millionaire smiling agreement, that they had bought Larry MacPhail's one-third interest in the New York Yankees.

There was evident relief in their faces as they announced MacPhail's complete severance from the affairs of the club and both men grinned when one of the milling reporters barked:

"The baseball writers ought to throw a party."

The dapper Topping revealed that he and Webb, who now become equal partners, had agreed even before the series to purchase MacPhail's one-third interest.

"We didn't know he was going to resign as Yankee general manager, because his contract had three more years to run at $50,000 per year," Topping explained. "But when he turned down an offer of $3,000,000 for 50 per cent of the club 10 days ago MacPhail asked us to buy him out."

Topping refused to state just what MacPhail received but added:

"Figure it out for yourself. We were offered $3,000,000 for 50 per cent. Well, we settled with MacPhail on the basis of that offer for one-third of the stock."

He said that the payoff "was a very definite increase over what MacPhail put up when we bought the club."

Topping, who now takes over as president, indicated that he and Webb were against taking the team to South America for spring training. But he called for George Weiss, veteran baseball front office man who becomes general manager and will direct the world champions.

"What's the matter, President, are you in trouble already?" laughingly inquired Webb.

"Golly, I've only been president an hour," Topping came back.

"Well, somebody else said, 'MacPhail would have made a dozen decisions in that time. Maybe it's better this way,'" Weiss grinned as he joined the party.

Topping told sportswriters that he thought MacPhail could have handled the club more economically, even though the Yankees made money this year.

"He was a great promoter, Topping said, but you can only promote so much.

But he insisted he knew nothing about persistent reports that Commissioner A. B. Chandler had ordered MacPhail out of baseball. Yet it was clear that he and Webb were happy over the change.

There was little love lost between them and the ranting redhead, particularly after a new battle Monday night at the Yankee victory party.

"I was a little mad alright," Topping said. "I tried to get MacPhail away and cool him off and then he jumped on me. I didn't hit him but it was close."

So by resigning his three-year job as general manager, MacPhail, simply saved Topping and Webb a little trouble.

"Because we may have had in the back of our mind to buy up his contract," Topping said. "Now we don't have to."

"And that's how polite and quiet came to the Yankees."

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Kearny and children Carol Marie and Charles Clinton, Jr. of San Antonio, Tex., will arrive today for a ten day visit with Mrs. Kearny's aunt, Mrs. Elmus Beale and Mr. Beale, Coldwater Rd.

ALL FOR ONE—Bob Allen (left), Cliff Allen (center) and Dick Allen, three brothers from Wauconda, Ill., are members of the Beloit College varsity football team this year. Bob and Dick, who play end and backfield positions, respectively, are twins, while Cliff a tackle, is two years older.

Southeastern Conference Football Review

By WARREN W. SCHWED
United Press Sports Writer

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 8 (UP)—Overlooked in the rash of upsets during the early SEC skirmishes has been the dismal flop of many of the backs touted for All-American honors before the current campaign got under way.

The most notable failures have been at Alabama and Louisiana State, two teams rated as the class of the conference in the do-charge.

The Red Tide rolled by Mississippi Southern and then spattered and wheezed to a halt before Tulane and Vanderbilt. The Bayou Bengals banged into Rice as if this were their year but then were stopped by Georgia as they faded in the last half.

Not the least of the early expectations for both squads were pointed around the presence of Hurlin

Harry Gilmer and Y. A. Tittle in the backfield for Bama and LSU.

Gilmer, a slippery little guy with an accurate right arm, figured to give Red Drew's Tusculosa crew the offensive might needed to carry them through to a successful season.

WE SELL

RUBBER STAMPS

Ledger & Times

to the line for Auburn in a "tail-enders' tangle" . . . A fleet frosh, 175-pound Ken Knoz, stole the show at Baton Rouge as LSU trained for Texas A. & M. with rugged contact work . . . Georgia spent a damp afternoon but Wally Butte was pleased with the drive of backs Al Bodine and Luke Bronson in a scrimmage with the Jayvee . . . Tackle Wayne Cantrell, the player of the week in the SEC, and center Charley Hooyer were still sidelined by injuries as Vanderbilt stepped through a stiff practice session at Nashville

Starting with Kentucky and continuing in appearances against Florida and South Carolina, the Conerly chucking to big Barney Poole has moved Ole Miss into the top light. This weekend the lanky lad faces Vanderbilt and that valiant Vandy line.

For Conerly, it represents a grand chance to nail the lid down on an All-American nomination. And if he does, it looks like curtains for the Commodores unbeaten string.

At SEC camps yesterday workouts centered on mounding defenses for the weekend frays. Mississippi State was gloomy over the loss of alternate captain Wallace Matulich for the San Francisco scrap. Matulich injured his hand in the Michigan State contest. Rain continued to mar preparations at Gainesville as Ray Wolf brought the Gators up

READ THE CLASSIFIEDS!

HAYS & FIELDER

Quality Foods

16th and Main

Ample Parking Space

AUCTION SALE

At the home of C. H. Riley
HALF MILE NORTH OF ALMO HEIGHTS
ON THE BENTON HIGHWAY

ON THURSDAY, OCTOBER 9

At 1:30 P. M.

The following will be sold:

Household and Kitchen Furniture
Farming Tools

NANCY

Patches That Are Matches

By Ernie Bushmiller

ABBIE an' SLATS

More Help Coming Up

By Raeburn Van Buren

L'L ABNER

The Beast Things in Life Are Free

By Al Capp

COPY FADED

Parts Missing

Women's Page

JO WILLIAMS, Editor — PHONE 374-M

Club News Activities Locals
Weddings

W.S.C.S. Meets Tuesday Afternoon

The W.S.C.S. of the First Methodist Church met Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the church. Mrs. E. A. Tucker, president, presided over the short business session. The meeting was then turned over to the Wesleyan Service Guild. Mrs. Charles Mason Baker, president, opened the program with a prayer and the Scripture reading was given by Mrs. Haron West followed by a prayer by Mrs. Cecil Harris.

Spokesman for the afternoon was Mrs. John T. Irvin, whose topic was "The Passing Show."

Mrs. Bobby Grogan accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Richard Winebaker sang "Only A Touch."

Mrs. Baker spoke briefly explaining the activities of the Wesleyan Service Guild and gave a resume of this year's work.

The program was concluded with Mrs. Grogan's singing the Guild song, followed by a prayer by Mrs. E. A. Tucker.

Group Two Of First Christian Ch. Meets

Group II of the Woman's Council of the First Christian Church met Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. H. P. Wear, North Fifth street, with Miss Reubie Wear as cohostess.

A very inspiring program entitled "We Bear Witness" was presented with the following members in charge: Mrs. P. A. Hart, Mrs. A. Carman, Mrs. W. J. Gibson, Mrs. R. M. Pollard and Miss Reubie Wear.

The hostess served tasty party plates to the group, consisting of sixteen members and one visitor.

The November meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Walter Baker, North Fourteenth street.

Group One Of First Christian Ch. Meets

Group I of the Woman's Council of the First Christian Church met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Marvin Fulton, with Mrs. W. B. Mosley assisting.

After a brief business session the program was presented by Mrs. R. L. Wade, Mrs. A. B. Austin and Mrs. H. C. Cren, the subject being "We Bear Witness."

Jerry Williams accompanied at the piano by Bobby Wade gave two beautiful selections on the trumpet.

Fifteen members and two guests were present and were served delightful refreshments by the hostess.

So. Murray Home Makers Club To Meet Fri. At London Home

Due to advisory council following on the regular meeting date of the South Murray Home Makers Club, the club will meet on Friday, October 10 at 2 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Jack London.

The lesson for the afternoon will be "Pattern—Alteration." Out of the secrets of being well dressed is the perfect fit of the garment. Knowing how to alter the pattern to fit the individual is of great importance in producing the ready-made look on hand-made articles.

Mrs. S. V. Fox and Mrs. Olive Brown, substituting for Mrs. Davey Hopkins who is ill, will give the lesson.

Visitors are always welcomed.

Womans Association Meets Tuesday

The Woman's Association of the College Presbyterian Church met Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 in the ladies' parlor. Mrs. Mary Brown, president, presided.

Mrs. F. D. Mullen gave the devotional. A very interesting program entitled "Alaska and Guatemala" was presented by Mrs. Charles Crawford.

The society voted to have an all day meeting Wednesday, October 22, at the home of Mrs. B. F. Scherffus to study the book "Committed Unto Us."

The November meeting will be held at the home of Miss Bernice Frye.

Distributed by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.

CHAPTER TWENTY-EIGHT
TO MAGGIE'S surprise, there was a little crowd outside the house. A man in a battered felt hat came up to Miss Dolly. "Miss Camford," he said, "I represent the Evening Standard."

"No time now, boys," said Captain Hofer. "You'll get your chance."

"You any theory about this murder?" asked another man.

"Play fair, now," said Captain Hofer. "You'll get your chance, boys."

He hurried Miss Dolly into a waiting sedan. Maggie got in after her, and he himself took the wheel. Looking back, Maggie saw the little crowd going up the steps of the porch and into the house.

"Are they allowed to go snooping into the house?" she demanded. "Make it easy," said Captain Hofer. "I left a couple of men in charge there."

He drove along the highway and into the pleasant tree-shaded village street. He stopped before a building.

Miss Dolly was still crying when he took her into an office. Maggie was left in an anteroom.

There was a girl in spectacles who answered the telephone and typed very fast. There was a man with his hat on sitting in a corner. Nobody spoke. The typewriter clattered. The telephone rang. The man in the corner lit a cigarette, and Maggie waited and waited.

It was a long wait, very very long. And all this time she thought the law was moving in its course. Was Miss Dolly crying in there? She thought of a movie that she had seen—a beautiful girl sitting in a chair, while the District Attorney stood in front of her pointing his finger at her shouting at her: the girl's luminous tear-filled eyes grew wider and wider in horror.

The door opened.

"Come in!" said Captain Hofer.

MAGGIE rose and entered the inner office. To her surprise Miss Dolly was no longer there.

The District Attorney was very quiet and serious. He did not bark or point his finger at her. But he disapproved of her.

He asked her question after question about the episode in the rowboat, and a young man sitting beside his desk took everything down in shorthand.

"I'd like to know the time, approximately, that Curtis asked you to get out in the boat with him," he said.

"I'm sorry," Maggie said, "but I haven't any watch, so I don't know."

He wanted to know—approximately—the time she had come to the duck farm with Cassidy; the time—approximately—when she had left Mr. Camford in the house. He disapproved of her not knowing any times.

"You understand," he said, "that in withholding information from the police you have made yourself liable to severe penalties."

"Yes, sir," she said, "and there's another thing."

"The day that Mr. Camford came—when I got back to the house, I found his wallet there."

"What was your object in withholding this information?"

"Well, I didn't know then that anything had happened to Mr. Camford."

"And when did you first learn that anything had happened to him?"

(To be continued)
(The characters in this serial are fictitious)

Social Calendar

Wednesday, October 8
The Arts and Crafts Club will meet at 2:30 o'clock with Miss Emily Wear, South Fourth street.

Thursday, October 9
The meeting of the Young Matrons Group of the First Christian Church has been postponed from October 2 to Thursday, October 9, at 7:30, when it will meet with Mrs. Keith Kelly, Olive street.

The Business and Professional group of the First Christian Church will meet at 7:30 in the home of Mrs. J. E. Littleton, South 8th St. Miss Ruth Ashmore is chairman.

The regular meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild of the First Methodist Church has been postponed to Thursday, October 16, when it will meet at 7:30 with Mrs. Haron West, Elm street.

The Rebecca YWA of the First Baptist Church will meet with Mrs. O. C. Wells, South Fifth street.

Thursday, October 9
The Business and Professional group of the First Christian Church will meet at 7:30 in the home of Mrs. J. E. Littleton, South Eighth street. Miss Ruth Ashmore is chairman. The meeting time has been changed from 7:30 due to the Murray High football game.

College Calendar

October 8, Wednesday—Second chapel. The Student Organization will be in charge.

October 9, Thursday—Bonfire and Pep Rally at 6:45 p.m.

October 10, Friday—Football game with Eastern, 8:00 p.m. Dance following the game at 10:00. Music by Wayne Johnson.

October 11, Saturday—Movie in the little chapel at 6:45 p.m. Center open house at 9:00 p.m.

October 13, Wednesday—Chapel. Dr. Woods.

October 17, Friday—Football game with Memphis State, here.

Edwards-Alexander Vows Are Read At Double Ring Ceremony

On Saturday afternoon, September 27, at 4 o'clock Mebbie Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Edwards of Kirksey, became the bride of Teddy Gene Alexander, son of Mr. and Mrs. Novice Alexander also of Kirksey.

The single ring ceremony was read by Rev. W. P. Goodman, pastor of the Locust Grove Holiness Church, in the living room, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Edwards, before an altar of white flowers in front of the fireplace. White tapers burned slowly on the mantel piece as the vows were solemnly read in the presence of a small group of close relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Howell Doofes, brother-in-law and sister of the bride were the attendants.

Mrs. Alexander wore a two-piece outfit of navy blue wool gabardine with cherry-rose accessories. Her flowers were pink carnations. Mrs. Doofes wore a dressmakers suit of medium blue with black accessories.

Crossword Puzzle

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE

ACROSS
1—Weary
4—Kind of hemp
9—Seagull
12—Native of the U. S. A.
14—Macaw
15—Belief
16—Coat
18—Any one of many fruits
20—Fix
21—Ready to pick
22—Greek letter
24—Small arrow
26—Woolly
31—Sailor

DOWN
3—Animal's hair
5—Night before
6—Burmese tribe
7—Changes
9—Within
10—Stirrer with open hand
11—Dangle
13—Body of water
14—Dangle
17—Yawns
18—Small
20—Make a speech
22—Past time
23—Out back
25—Angles
26—Make happy
29—Fruit drink

W.S. of C.S. Meets At Sulphur Springs M.E. Church Wed.

The W. S. of C. S. met October 1, at the Sulphur Springs Methodist Church at New Concord.

Members repeated the Lord's Prayer and then had the roll call with eight members present. The minutes were read and the treasurer's report was heard.

The program was as follows:
Song, "Have Thine Own Way Lord"; reading, Erin Montgomery; scripture, Mrs. Thos. B. Nance; Words, For Spoken Meditation, Erin Montgomery; song, "Tell Me The Story of Jesus"; Purpose of Program, Mrs. E. H. Lax, Jr.; The Gospel for Our Generation, Mrs. John Nance; God's Children Need Food, Ruth Montgomery; Devotion, Mrs. Tee McCusick; Litany of Penitence, by group; prayer of dedication, Erin Montgomery; Benediction for Teachers of Children, by group; song, A Charge To Keep, benediction.

The social hour was enjoyed by every one and a lovely plate was served by the hostesses, Misses Erin and Ruth Montgomery to eight members and five visitors.

Group Three Of First Christian Ch. Meets

Group III of the Woman's Council of the First Christian Church met Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Mrs. W. S. Swann at her home on Main street.

Mrs. L. M. Overbey, chairman, presided at the business session. The devotional was given by Mrs. Edd Duguid, Jr., and the program entitled, "We Bear Witness," was presented by Mrs. E. A. Johnston.

The members and one guest, Mrs. David Gowan, were invited into the dining room where delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Pfc. Frank N. Hart of the Fifth Air Rescue Squadron, left Saturday for Hamilton Field, Calif., after spending a month with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hart. He will visit Mrs. Mason Hart and Jimmy in Pauls Valley, Okla., en route and will be shipped from California to the South Pacific.

"Ah-h-h! I Can Breathe Again!"

If your nose sometimes fills up with stuffy transient congestion—put a few drops of Vicks Vapo-Rol in each nostril. It quickly reduces congestion and makes breathing easier in a hurry... gives grand relief from stuffy, uneasy, stuffy distress of head colds. Follow directions in the package.

VICKS VA-TRO-NOL

Auction Sale

AT THE HOME OF

J. C. Madrey

One mile west of Midway, just off the Hazel Highway

Monday Oct. 13

At 10 A. M.

HOUSEHOLD and KITCHEN FURNITURE

Poster Bedroom Suite
Studio Couch
Singer Sewing Machine
Chairs and Table
Oil Stove
Wood Stove
Warm Morning Heater
FARMING TOOLS and HAY

OTHER ITEMS TOO NUMEROUS TO MENTION

THURSDAY
ONE DAY ONLY

Varsity

The most reckless lover... the boldest adventurer... ever to bear the Monte Cristo name!

COLUMBIA PICTURES presents

The Return of Monte Cristo

starring
LOUIS HAYWARD BARBARA BRITTON

Last Times Wednesday Night

VAN JOHNSON THOMAS MITCHELL

IN
"ROMANCE OF ROSY RIDGE"

VITAMINS FOR CHINA—Mrs. E. W. Macy, first Vice-President of the National Board, YWCA, turns over a consignment of Vitamin tablets to Mrs. A. F. Anderson, President, and Mrs. H. S. Elliott, General Secretary of the National Board, who are en route to the World's Y. W. Conference in Hangchow, China. It will be the first Y. W. world council since 1938.